Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

This issue is disrespectfully dedicated to Arkansas Long-staple Ford, the gentleman who misrepresents this district in Congress. The man who did a dirty trick to a man whose forefathers and himself have worked for over a century to help build this community.

Like many others who have not investigated, we thought that Rayburn was a weak sister. Upon investigation, we find that, if Rayburn was a weak sister (which he is not), he would beat Ford with Ford's own lame throng of enemies. On the contrary, Rayburn has a large following in every county in the district, and, from the way reports are coming in, he will send Arkansas Longstaple Ford back to Arkansas where all his interest are.

We do not need a man anyway who has nothing but political interests in this district. All Arkansas Long-staple will have to do when Rayburn beats him will be to go to the hotel keeper in Ackerman, turn in the key to his hotel room and say "So long, I am checking out."

Aint these newly painted red and write fire plugs pretty?

Dr. Frank Smith, whose letter appears elsewhere in this issue is an optimist indeed. In a country devoted exclusively to cotton and grass, he is optimistic about prospects, and, in a country that should go overwhelmingly for Hugh White, he is optimistic about Theo. Grabmore Bilbo.

Better pay your water bills, you delinquents. See ad elsewhere in this issue.

Miss Katherine Brewer, popular assistant clerk at the city hall, was carried to a Memphis hospital Wednesday. Her condition remains extremely critical.

Claud Perry, we hear, is still holding his own, and reported better.

"Oh, Lord", prayed little Arkansas Long-staple Ford, "please send a stroke or the heart disease to Rayburn, before he beats me".

No, no, gentle reader, the power trust did not pay for painting my house. It aint paid for yet.

dere mr top. I see whare ower ole fren the tall sik sum moore now wants 2 have civil serviss sense he haz got all his frens n offise. thets what i call a smart trik.

Arkansas Long-staple Ford makes like he loves us red-neck cotton farmers. Bet he would sick the dogs on a white fellow who wanted a home on his enormous Arkansas plantation. Next time he begins gushing over you, ask him how about renting some of that two-bale land.

Arkansas short-staple Ford went to the Peace Conference in Europe two years ago. From what we hear, he might as well have stayed at home There is now in progress the worse war in history.

Dear Rayburn: you need not waste any time here in this county. Little no-staple ford has enough enemies here to give you a handsome plurality. You can not be any worse than the one we have, people here say.

Dr. Frank Hill, like Sam Mims, is getting a terrible belly on himiself. He ought to use one of those diet lists that he passes out to others.

All of the WPA boys are for the armory for it is quite likely that, in a short time, communities that have no works of defense character will be out of luck so far as work for the unemployed is concerned. Uncle Sam is tightening his belt and drying out his powder.

If I can vote and work for Hugh, as much as I have said of him, it looks like anybody could.

Our boyhood friend, Douglas Grantham, now a prominent WPA man of Greenwood, in the swamp, honored this emporium with a short call. He was getting some secret directions from our Mr. Greenfield, presumably directions about how to get to Greenwood.

You can help us in no more tangible way than by telling our advertisers "I saw it in the GCW".

VISITED HERE TUESDAY

EX-GOV. HUGH WHITE

Governor Hugh White Was Visitor Here Tuesday

Former Governor Hugh L. White, now a candidate for the U. S. Senate against Senator Theo. G. Bilbo, spent a few hours in Grenada Tuesday.

Author of the homestead exemption law, he tates that homeowners everywhere are telling him and writing him of their appreciation and of their determination to support him in the August primary.

Particularly in the communities where industries have been established through recourse to the BAWI act, which was the mud sill of Governor White's program, people are flocking to his standard in ever increasing numbers.

Grenada county home owners have saved an average of $34.25 to date under the Hugh White Homestead Exemption program, according to figures compiled today from reports of the State Tax Commission by campaign headquarters of Governor White, candidate for the U. S. Senate in the August 27 primaries.

A total of 1397 Grenada county home owners obtained exemptions totalling $47,942.16 for an average cash saving per homestead of $34.25, the compilation shows. The total includes two 1939 and one 1940 reinbursement from the state to the counties, road and school districts, for taxes which otherwise would have to be paid by home owners; and also includes the amount of exemption from the state's eight mill ad valorem tax.

Total savings to 150,000 registered home owners have already reached the enormous total of $5,005,435, today's compilation shows.

After successfully urging the legislature to increase homestead exemption from just state taxes, inaugurated in the Conner administration, from $1,500 to $2,500, Governor White spent months working out the basis for a total exemption program, in cooperation with many state officials and agencies. Armed with a preliminary report, he asked the 1938 regular session to name a committee to work with him in getting further information, and working out detailed legislative bills.

With this done, he called the July, 1938 special session at which was passed the present homestead exemption act, exempting all homes, up to $5,000 valuation, from all state, county, road and school district taxes, except levies for bond payments which could not be exempted under the Constitution.

"In every county I've visited," commented Governor White on his return from a swing around the state, "home owners have come to thank me for lifting the tax burden on their homes, and to pledge me their support in this campaign, because they say politicians have been promising them tax relief for years, but that homestead exemption is the only real relief they're ever received."

Further data for each county on homestead exemption, and on other accomplishments of the White administration are available to any Mississippian who will write Hugh White Campaign Headquarters, 504 1-2 E. Capitol Street, Jackson.

GRENADA BAND ATTENDS LEGION CONVENTION

Grenada High School Band took part in the huge parade at the meeting of the Mississippi Legionnaires in Jackson Monday. Several scores of parents went along.

Yes, Me and Mike are still in cahoots, but I am bothered now with Me and Hugh and Me and Rayburn. Mike can wait a while.

The American Legion will meet at Legion Hall tomorrow, Friday night at 7:30.

'Choppy" Andrews Elected New Jaycee President

At its regular meeting Monday evening, following a fine supper at Chicken Inn, the Junior Chamber of Commerce elected C. C. "Choppy" Andrews president. E. S. Parks was elected vice president and treasurer. W. B. "Billy" Hoffa, secretary. C. B. Ferrill and P. S. Irby were added to the directing board.

Retiring officers are P. S. Irby, president, Joe B. Williams, vice president, Ed Penn, treasurer, C. C. Andrews, secretary, and Walter V. Davis, member of directing board.

The Jaycees are at this time very much interested in the promotion of a livestock association locally, and, with that end in view, have appointed a committee of four to attend the great meeting of livestock enthusiasts to be held in Memphis Thursday of this week. Those planning to attend include Byron Hunter, E. S. Sprayberry, of Gore Springs, G. O. Sandford, of the Holcomb School and W. W. Whitaker, Editor of the Grenada County Weekly.

Resolutions commending the city authorities for marked improvement in traffic conditions were passed.

Hamp Graves Appointed City Tax Assessor

Hamilton Graves has been appointed City Tax Assessor, and it is his duty to assess all property, both real and personal, in the city limits. It is expected that his work will require at least two months.

Mr. Graves is well versed in real estate values as well as in other businesses, and it is expected much property not now being assessed at all, and other property grossly underassessed will be placed on the rolls.

With the growing demands upon this growing city, the council is faced with one of two alternatives: first, asking the citizens to permit an increase in the General Fund levy, or, second, getting more property on the city tax rolls. The council chose the latter alternative

NEW JAYCEE HEAD

"CHOPPY" ANDREWS

Spratlin Thanks Council For Its Cooperation

Mr. O. H. Spratlin, Office Manager and Personnel Superintendent of Grenada Hosiery Mill, appeared before the city council Monday night, and thanked that body for the continued cooperation which the industry had received at its hands, spoke in optimistic tones of the future, and expressed the view of the industry that, not having proven recreant to its obligations in the past, it would not do so in the future.

Mr. Spratlin pridefully reminded the council that the industry he represents had not only paid out as much in wages and employed as many young people as it had promised, but actually had done two or three times as much in those matters as it had promised to do.

Mr. Spratlin voiced the view of the management that unforeseen events not materializing, the industry did not propose to rest on its present plant, and indulged the hope that the future would see considerable expansion of production capacity there. Production now is at the highest point in this two-year-old industry.

This industry being one that was organized under the White industrial plan, is, in a sense, a partner of the city of Grenada which has invested over $50,000 in buildings.

Mr. Spratlin, among other things, thanked the council for granting to this industry the five-year exemption from taxes which the state law allows, but reminded the councilmen that, at the expiration of the exemption period, this industry would be one of the greatest sources of taxes in the city.

Mr. Spratlin, always straightforward and sincere in his actions and in his manner, made a fine impression on the members of the council, as well as upon the citizens, who composed the audience. Formerly superintendent of the Gore Springs Consolidated School, he served one term ending last January as county superintendent of education of this county, later formed the Spratlin Firestone Store on Main Street, and was employed last month as office and personnel manager of the hosiery mill.

Mayor R. W. Sharp, responing to Mr. Spratlin's extemporaneous talk, reciterated the city's determination to cooperate with the industry, and paused to pay a nice tribute to the value of the industry to this community.

HIRAM WEST APPOINTED

Hiram West was appointed Superintendent of the Water Department of the city at the council meeting Monday night, upon the recommendation of the Water Committee composed of Messrs. C. H. Burkley and W. W. Whitaker. Mr. West has worked at the plant for many years. He succeeds Mr. Allen Kincaid, who has been superintendent ten or fifteen years.

CRISS TO FORT McPHEARSON

Postmaster George Criss, expecting to be relieved by the appointment of a permanent postmaster, R. D. Sharp, within five or six weeks, left Monday morning for Fort McPhearson, near Atlanta, Georgia, where he takes six weeks training in the Citizens' Military Training Corps.

Dear Greek Rice, Attorney General: I know you can not arrest a Congressman, but can you sue him when he does not pay debts that he voluntarily contracted? Write right away.

If your boy and my boy gets into war, blame it on the congressman who wasted billions on useless projects instead of preparing this nation for defense. Put the blame squarely where it belongs, on our representation in Congress.

Grenada Likely to Get New $50,000 Armory Building

The chances of this community having a $50,000 armory for use of the National Guard are greater now that the city council has expressed its intention of providing the city's part, $11,000.00, unless the proposed bond issue is rejected by twenty per cent, or more of the citizens.

Grenada County, thru its board of supervisors, has already sponsored the armory, but its sponsorship was contingent upon the city's supplying one-half of the sponsor contribution.

While the county assumed the sponsorship on reason that that sponsorship would facilitate dealing with the WPA, the whole theory is that, coming as we hope here at home are concerned, the city and the county are jointly responsible.

It is to be assumed that, should there be no protest from Grenada's citizenship after publication of the legal notice for three weeks, the city will sell its bonds and the county will sell its bonds, and work should start soon, for the government's money is already available and ready to go.

Kroger Store Moves to New Location on the Square

Kroger's new location in the Ben Brown building on the east side of the square, a couple of doors up the street from the former location, is a real addition to the business life of this growing community.

New and convenient display shelves and counters, ultra modern refrigeration both for meats, dairy products and fish, scientific artificial illumination and an up to date counter in the front of the store for wrapping and checking packages, all contribute to the making of this store one of the most efficient in Grenada, if not in the state.

All fixtures and cooling equipment, even the chopping block in the meat department, are brand new. The counters and display shelves were built especially for the building they are to occupy.

Mr. Bob Anderson, who has been in Grenada for five years, and Mr. L. S. Murphey are managers respectively of the food and meat departments.

This Grenada Grows.

EUGENE FUTHEY NEW GAME WARDEN

Eugene Guy "Skeet" Futhey, has been named as Grenada County Game Warden, effective at once. He replaces Grover L. Cunningham six or eight years, under part of the Conner administration and under all of the White administration.

Mr. Futhey is not inexperienced in this work, as he has served as assistant game warden, and has always taken keen interest in conservation of game and fish.

H.D. DRESS STYLE REVIEW HELD LAST TUESDAY

The Clothing Dress Style Review for Home Demonstration Club women of Grenada County was held in the auditorium of the Agricultural building on July 2, with 15 dresses entering the county contest. Judging was done by Miss Louise Grover, Yalobusha county home demonstration agent.

There were three classes of dresses modeled: Class 1, heavy material dresses; Class 2, sheer dresses; Class 3, formal or long dresses.

Class 2: Miss Mildred Gattis 1st; Mrs. Jack Gresham, 2nd; Mrs. T. H. King, 3rd. Honorable mention went to Mrs. Rosa Thomason who is eighty-six years old. The workmanship on her dress was unusually good.

Class 3: 1st, Mrs. Clarence Schiele.

The first place winners will compete in the State Clothing Contest at State College during Farm and Home Week. The Grenada Hosiery Mill presented the second place winners with a beautiful pair of hose each. Appreciation goes to the Grenada Hosiery Mill for this cooperation.

Dresses of the following women were sent in for modeling: Mesdames F. A. Kincade, J. L. Moore, Eugene McGahey, J. W. Jordan, T. J. Morman, D. M. Trussell, Walter Tucker, and the above dresses which placed.

(Mrs. M. S. Walker)

Mr. and Mrs. C. Davenport and their two children, Mary Nell and "Bud" are here from Weslaco, Texas visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Taylor. Jack Taylor who had been in Weslaco with them for several weeks came home. Another daughter is also on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, is Mrs. Boyd Kynard, of Hattiesburg.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thomas sympathize with them in their sorrow on learning of the death of Mrs. Thomas' two young sisters by drowning near San Antonio, Texas, Miss Mattie and Ilene Moltz. The particulars of their death had not been learned, but Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left for San Antonio on receiving the telegram.

Dorothy Ann Aldridge is back at home after a most enjoyable visit to her cousin, Nancy Gillespie at Aberdeen.

Dr. G. T. Gillespie and family spent the week-end with the Gillespie family and Mrs. Gillespie's mother, Mrs. W. E. Tyler.

Mr. W. M. Gillespie and family, of Charleston, spent Sunday with his father, Dr. G. Y. Gillespie and sister, Mrs. J. E. Aldridge.

The Methodist-Presebyterian meeting closed Friday night with several additions to these churches. Splendid sermons were preached by the Presbyterian pastor, Rev. Mr. Lowe, of Winona, and the singing was led by Rev. Leo Bailey, a young ministerial student of Millsaps College and this young man proved a splendid helper to young people, in religious work.

Little Patricia Caffey, sweet little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Caffey was brought home from the Grenada Hosital Sunday afternoon, much better. Her brother, little Fred, is still suffering from the same trouble, colitis, and their many friends (for every one loves these beautiful children) are hoping they will soon be well again. Mr. Caffey is the mayor of our town and druggist.

Mr. J. E. Aldridge was at home from Nashville, where he is attending summer school.

Rev. Joe Caruthers was at home Monday from Millsaps College, visiting Rev. G. T. Sledge and Mrs. M. S. Walker.

Mr. J. S. Lindsey and young son, John Lewis, of Amarilla, Texas, were visitors in Duck Hill during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Huntley, Mrs. Annie Huntley Machman and Mrs. Hallie Townsend, of Winona, were guests of Mrs. Armine Kingsland Sunday.

Miss Moody and Miss Frances Fox were recent visitors to Duck Hill from Clarksdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Burry Gillespie, of Memphis, recently visited the G. Y. Gillespie home.

Two lovely little guests to Mr. and Mrs. Dave Davidson are their grandchildren, Elizabeth Ann Allen, of Indianola and Shirley Davidson, of Vicksburg.

We can walk out in our back yard and see an oil derrick, we can look from our front yard and see an oil derrick and we can look from the windows of two rooms and see an oil derrick; however, it is the same derrick and they claim they have already struck oil and gas of some quality at a distance of something over two hundred feet and how the people are visiting this project from far and near. Out there a while ourselves Sunday afternoon and cars coming and going all the time, but just wait until we get about fifty derricks pumping oil and then Grenada will be the suburbs of Duck Hill Mr. Hoffa.

Sam Irby and Jim Provine, Grenada citizens, swore they caught this string of fish in Blue Lake several weeks ago. Their count is 55, their weight is 60 pounds. Others hint that these fish were caught in a seine, others that they were bought. Sam and Jim still say they caught them.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to the people of Holcomb and vicinity for the sympathy and kindness shown us during the illness and death of our loved one, Mr. W. H. Martin.

Why don't some of you fellows who are yelling for Ford, and fearing your hair about him, ask him for a home on his rich acres in Arkansas, instead of skuffing clay clods on the sorry land you now work? Ask him how many white men he allows to work his fine land?

John James, rotund and rubicose as usual, honored this office with a short call recently.

MT. NERO NEWS

The situation caused by continued rain here is grave. It has rained some every day and night for 12 days and some of the rains were toad strangers. It hurts the worse for this being almost strictly farming country. No manufacturing to speak of except in wash pot and lard cans and the product is fierce.

Horace Hill, of Palahatchie, who was born and raised near here, is visiting his sisters, Mesdames Lee Clarke and C. S. Burke this week.

Most every home here has burning fire night and morning and the winter underwear is being fished out, denothed, and spidered for another grind.

If there is any good in war for one thing it has silenced the radio howler, who quotes the saying of a certain ancient Chinese pritosophere.

Great excitement here last Saturday night when what was thought to be cross between trojan horse and a stink bomb dropped? in Geth Craig's back yard. The family awoke 1 a. m. almost smothered with a sickening odor, compared to which a dead mule would smell like attar of roses. About that time, a passing truck back fired long and loud. Geth began firing his automatic to arouse neighbors and they came in waves, back yard soon seething with folks privileged and painted, plain and fair, young and old they all were there. It being pitch dark and rain coming down in sheets, some screaming and every one in action such cries were heard, as trojan horse stink bomb "fifth column" America first and a faint voice chirped, give him a third term which voice proved to be that of Bull Billow, who had at bedtime took an overdose of B. If Ford, you know Arkansas Longstaple Ford, had been looking after our interests instead of messing around, he and the other well-paid congressmen would have had this country prepared for war, instead of letting it get into military decrepitude.

Me and Hugh.

How many white folks has Arkansas Long-staple Ford on his immense plantation in Arkansas? Bet his overseer would run a white man attempting to get foot on that plantation into the Mississippi River.

Don't you fellows on Bywy Creek, Yalobusha River and Skuna wish you could get the government to pay for levies protecting your place. Better run for Congress, and be elected, boys.

SOUR DOUGH of Alaska

Alaska has been called Uncle Sam's attic, store and similar names. It will take years for this vast land to be explored, surveyed and prospected as parts of Alaska are almost inaccessablee. Time will prove what a magnificant store house of natural wealth is in this land north of the Artic Circle. The gradual discovery of mineral wealth in the Klondike culminated in the rush of 1897-98 and the gush to the gold at Nome in 1900. Since then the mining industry has been stableized.

Unbelievable rich copper, marble gold, silver, gypsum, coal and oil deposits are as yet uncharted.

President Harding, knowing of this wealth had congress to set aside 25,000 acres in the Kobuk country as an oil reserve.

In 1932 it was estimated that at Fairbanks, Alaska, four and one half tons of minerals, mostly gold, was minded. Fur and gold are the chief products of this country now.

All property along the Alention islands are of volcanic origin. It has been stated that ship captains and their crews often lose land marks and again will find new ones that have come to the surface. 125,000 miles of cod and halibut fish banks on the coast of Alaska. Great floating canneries are busy taking care of enormous salmon catch. Here salmon weighing from 30 to 80 pounds each are caught. Many other countries use this as a fishing ground. One of the greatest industries of South Eastern Alaska is the manufacturer of pulp and paper. Western hemlock and sitaka spruce are both suited to such use and cheap water power is available for the mill's operation.

There is an extensive area suitable for cattle grazing. The government claims 10 million reindeer. These furnish skins for the clothing and food for the inhabitants. There are also vast herds of caribon. There are about 60,000 people in Alaska One half white, the other natives.

This country needs men and women of great courage and endurance and although the wealth of Alaska is great it is not to be had just for the taking. There are few who can stand the hardships of prospecting and still fewer who find it profitable. Farming in Alaska will not please fortune hunters. True, in the eyes of all who see virgin gold in their hands, gleams that light induced by matchless adventure.

More next week.

Let's see, we will have finished 3 years of it within a few weeks, lasting about seven times as long as was predicte din some quarters.

These short staple farmers of Grenada County resent how Arkansas Longstaple Ford treated their favorite editor and will not vote for him, as they say, "for hell".

We short staple fellows have no business fooling with a longstapler anyway.

Just before Arkansas Long staple Ford says "Amen" to his prayers at prone element Tuesday as he had night, he should add "And thank you, God, for sending Abernathy to the side of our governor about the streets of Grenada and into the business houses.

THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1940

Foreword

For the next several weeks this newspaper is likely to have a good many things to say if congressman Arkansas Longstaple Ford, Esq., lets the reader beat us to it. In avoiding us of having a "sore toe", we hasten to say in the beginning that we do have a sore toe. We hope, in a brief manner, to show how and why we received that sore toe.

Back in September, 1938, or 1939, it has been so long ago, announcement was made that applications would be received from those who wished to complete in an open competitive examination for the postmastership in Grenada. The entire citizenship of the community, practically, felt it was assumed that the government was seeking, through the Open Competitive Examination, to get the person best qualified to fulfill government standards, was best fitted to hold that important position.

Things dragged along until November 1939, or 1940. It has been so long when announcement of grades came from Washington. These grades disclosed that Whitaker was high with 95.68, and that Frank York was second with 95.34, and that NO OTHERS even made passing grades. At that time the writer was a candidate for the office, heartily endorsed by the Democratic Executive Committee of Grenada County, and had been assured by Congressman Whitaker as he should, little Arkansas Longstaple Ford, and behind Pat Harrison's back, and in some way or other unknown to anyone, Jeff Busby, secretary to Congressman Whitaker, had asked for another examination. For reasons unknown to the writer, he had not asked for another examination. For reasons unknown to the writer, he had not asked so much for Longstaple Ford as Congressman Whitaker had given Pat a good laugh at Longstaple in a mild way. Unfortunately for Longstaple, Arkansas Longstaple Ford, nobody believes that Pat and Congressman Whitaker are on speaking terms, and that postoffices are an exclusive "pie" of the latter, contrary to Arkansas Longstaple Ford. Then, too, if Pat did send Whitaker over he would be keeled over at the same time by Frank York, who is the brother-in-law of John Pressgrove, whom as everyone knows, is Pat's strongest friend, including half of them in Grenada County. So that makes no sense. Pat did not get where he is by doing dirty tricks on his best friends.

If Pat really did dominate the situation, which nobody with loose sense believes, it demonstrates that little Arkansas Longstaple Ford, who has been in Congress eight years, cannot even control the patronage that he is supposed to have.

If little Arkansas Longstaple Ford had wanted to do the decent, honorable and right thing, he would have sent Whitaker's name or Frank York's name to the U.S. Senate for confirmation. If either of the Senators wanted to raise hell about it and reject the nominee, the skirts of little Arkansas Longstaple Ford would have been clean. As it is, they are dirty as hell.

What would you think of a fellow who invited you to play HIS game using HIS rules, who, when the winner was announced, said "Oh, hell, I am going to change the rules. I did not want him to win"? That's what little Longstaple did.

What would you think of a fellow who pretended to be seeking the tallest man, and invited the whole world to come to be measured with HIS OWN yardstick and who, upon announcement of the winner, said "Oh, hell, I am going to get another yardstick, I do not want him to win"? That's what little no-staple did.

The only crime (?) that the writer ever committed, so far as he knows, was in voting for Jeff Busby when little no-staple was first a candidate.

The reason, then, of the existence of the writer's Sore toe is this: He fairly, honorably and justly, by every conceivable process of mind, won the postmastership, and was beaten out of it by little Arkansas Long-staple Ford.

Other chapters will follow in rapid sequence.

Bolshevik and Republican

Last August when the grades of the postoffice aspirants in Grenada were announced, we heard that Arkansas Longstaple Ford disdainfully said "Why, I can't pick one of those simps. One is a Bolshevik and the other is a Republican." History records that he didn't pick either of them. Nobody can dispute that.

The presumption is that the writer was the Bolshevik and that Frank York was the Republican. The writer had a top place on the list, while Frank had second place.

While we do not know how to spell Bolshevik, we have an idea that he is a hairy, bewhiskered Red who goes about the country burning churches, robbing the widows and excavating graves to see if he can find some rings on the dead fingers and gold in the useless teeth. Everybody in Grenada knows that the writer is no "sich 'er thing" as that. Bad as we are, we are not that bad.

If however, a Bolshevik is a fellow who unmasks hypocrisy and deceit in high places, and a fellow who puts ants in another fellow's pants, then the writer has already become one of those things, and probably will become more so as the summer warms up.

If little Arkansas Longstaple did say that, he will be sorry he said it, even if he never admits either saying it or being sorry that he said it.

Me and Hugh.

Hugh Has Scratched our Back Already

Politics, it is said, is nothing but the old principle of "You scratch my back and I'll scratch your back."

Hugh White scratched this community's back when he helped enact the homestead exemption law, which reduced the taxes of every homeowner in this community.

Hugh White scratched this community's back when his administration provided the funds to complete the pavement of No. 51; provided the funds to pave No. 8 to the east; and provided the funds to make a survey of No. 8 to the west.

Hugh White scratched this community's back when his administration passed the BAWI law, which permitted the establishment here of Grenada Industries Inc. which rings the bells on every cash register and provides remunerative employment, under hygienic conditions, to over three hundred of this community's young men and young women. This industry touches every pocket in this community, either directly or indirectly.

In all fairness, it is time that this community scratched Hugh's broad and ample back.

"Low Minded"

We are reluctantly drawn to the conclusion that most, if not all, of our readers are what the negro called "low minded", basing our assumption on the grounds that the readers seem to pay more attention to such articles as appeared last week about the "heinies being wiped out", etc. and a former editorial about Black Draught.

In our long spider experience we have written hundreds of what we thought thoughtful, well-timed, constructive editorials, and those editorials apparently go sailing serenely over the sea of life without making any more ripples than a mellow fog makes in the Atlantic Ocean. Let us, however write some damn fool thing like last week, or like the Black Draught editorial, and we are deluged with comments.

Yes, we guess folks are sort of "low minded".

Nero, All Over Again

Our people are not only fiddling, but they are frolicking, dancing, racing, wasting time and energy, messing around having a hell of a time all the time, while not only Rome, but all the world, burns. We are not pikers like Nero, to say the least of it.

Personally, as we look about Grenada, we see no evidence that our people have any concern whatever about the danger that threatens our country. Folks get up as late, work as little and idle as much as they did in the jiping days of peace.

With America's last line of defense—the British Navy—likely to crumble, we go on as unconcerned as a June bug, and as indifferent as a Laplander is to ice.

Wake up America, wake up. You are asleep.

Exploding the "Pat Harrison" Myth

When, or if, little Arkansas Longstaple Ford tries to say that Pat Harrison interfered in the appointment of the high man, Whyte Whitaker, as postmaster of Grenada, ASK HIM: "Then why, Mr. Ford, did you not let Pat take the rap? Why did you not send up the name of Whitaker and let Pat pop his neck?"

Then, ASK HIM: "You know, Ford, Pat Harrison would not oppose the brother-in-law of his best friend, John Pressgrove. Why did you not send up the name of second man Frank York?"

If little Arkansas Longstaple Ford keeps on mumbling about Pat Harrison, ASK HIM, "Then, Mr. Ford, how did you get by Pat Harrison with the appointment you recently made. You know that Whitaker fought Pat no harder than did the uncle of the appointee?"

When little no-staple Ford drags up Pat Harrison, ask him those questions. Inasmuch as little Ford gets this newspaper, and reads it with a microscope, WE ASK him those questions, and solicit answers, which, when received, will be published.

No One Is Indispensable

Most of us, being inherently egotistic, think that no one else can take our place—that no one else can do the job as we can do it. The opposite is true. Every position can be filled just as well, if not better, by someone else.

As a young fellow, we got huffed at the boss and, thinking he could not get along without us, threatened to quit. The boss went to the rain barrel, stuck his finger into the water and then withdrew his finger. "What difference can you tell in that barrel of water, son," he asked, "now that I have taken my finger out?"

The Armory

One by one, the impediments in the way of the erection of the armory in Grenada are being passed.

Notice is being given the people that, unless twenty percent protest, $11,000.00 in bonds, the city's part, will be issued. In the event twenty percent of the citizens protest, an election will be called on the subject.

However, it seems apparent that the people have awakened to the necessity of playing ball with the War Department in its huge preparedness program. They have awakened to the fact that, if we have an armory here, it is more than likely that our young men, likely to be placed in the army soon, will be trained close to home, and not sent far away. In this, as in any other program started by the government, a lot has to be done on faith, and hope.

We noted in Sunday's newspapers from Colonel Harrington, WPA Administrator, that more and more WPA employees were being transferred to so-called defense projects; and it is not unlikely that, as time goes on, WPA employees will be used almost exclusively on works of that character. Communities which have no projects of military preparedness character may find themselves without work for their idle men.

We are advised that the WPA's part of the money is available, and only waiting the city's part and the county's part. The county board likely will act immediately.

Somebody on the radio talking about changing horses in the middle of the stream. Sounds like Bilbo. Turn the switch, pull the chain.

Subscriber Red Martin, tonsorial artist of high repute and reputation, is soon to branch out for himself at the former Kroger building. Red is a hustler and a darn good citizen.

Plant plenty of food crops. Food may determine the salvation of civilization before Spring comes.

If England can hold out until Winter, it will have two allies, Pestilence and Starvation, helping defeat Hitler.

If we have many weeks like the 4th of July issue, we will be forced to go preaching for a living.

It must be grand to be a biz prosperous printer, like Ellett Lawrence, and spend a month fishing on the Coast.

Our favorite philosopher, Pony Costilow of Beat Three, reported that quite a commotion occurred at his house one night last week. He has a clock that strikes the hour of the day. Last Friday night the darn thing began striking and waked Pony up. He counted 12, but the thing kept striking. He counted 102. Pony called his boys and said "Get up, boys. Its later than I ever heard of it being before."

Odom has been bothering our Beale street whiskey sellers, having caught our favorite colored taxi driver. We thought anything went on Beale.

The stork flew by and left Charlie and Rose four nice kittens.

Mighty sorry to hear of the death of Leyna Boyman, grand daughter of our good colored friend, D. W. Wilson, which occurred last week.

Welcome to a new subscriber in Mobile, "Miss" Dora Adams, one of the finest ladies who ever lived. It was she and plenty of peachtree switches that made Ben and Harry so polite.

If this country is unprepared, put the blame where it should be, on our representative in the Congress, who is supposed to look after our interests, instead of fooling around, attending eggnog parties, etc.

Every time John Bradley gets around the Belmont nickle catcher, the darn thing gets the shakes, like it is having a chill. After seeing him fooling with that nickle catcher nobody knows why they call him Honest John, except facetiously.

See where Hurd Horton got his name in the Clarion-Ledger when he went to Jackson. Also L. O. Burris.

Jeff Busby, potential candidate for Congress, has been scarce around in this district. Now is Jeff's time, if he wants to go back to Congress. The water is hot for said Pat.

Aint they sweet.

SAID THE WISE OLD OWL

Libraries are not made, they grow. George Matthew Adams once wrote: "There isn't a town or city in the country too poor to have its own library. Many towns have a better jail than they do a library. Perhaps if many a chap had a good library to go to he would have been spared the humiliation of a spel in jail. Who can tell?

Whatever a town puts into its library comes out in the form of better and more intelligent citizens. Nothing pays so hugh in dividends. No monument of bronze or marble can possibly compete with it. It is a warm, living and enduring monument to the vision and intelligence of those who founded it."

Mississippi as a state spends 3 cents pere capita for Public Library Service, and this is thec lowest of any state. In our state 69 per-cent of our people do not have any library service at all.

We in Grenada should feel justly proud of our fine library and our Bookmobile for there would be no country sevice if it were not for our Bookmobile.

STATISTICS ON GRENADA COUNTY LIBRARY

Begun in 1934—six years in operation. 4000 books owned locally. 1000 books loaned by WPA. 47,056 books circulated in 1939. 17,000 books circulated to school children. $750.00 spent on books and supplies for 1939 Local donations—$250.00 County yearly; $300.00 City yearly. WPA furnished the following: 40l.oo per month in salaries—8 workers, 4 county, 4 city $1500.oo in books, $900.oo bookmobile.

Our Bookmobile makes 40 stops and each is visited every two weeks. There are 9 stations and 31 house to house stops.

The Bookmobile carries 350 books for selection while small stations do not carry more than 30 books. All other means of transportating books to stations has been cut off,so if we did not have the bookmobile there would be no county srvice.

One of the remarkable things about the Bookmobile is that it has cost never more than 2 cents per mile to operate. INFORMATION PLEASE.

The Grenada County Library is the "information bureau" for a great many people in our town and county. The questions are many and varied.

Recently a man wanted to find out about a large university in the North. He wanted to know when it was founded, what it specalized in, how expensive it was, how big the enrollment was and how to get there from Grenada. He got all this information at the library; and he even found out the shortest and best route to take.

Would you know how many brothers and sisters Marshall had? This was another question asked at the library.

How many kinds of cotton do we grow in this county?

What is the average rainfall in a certain section of our state?

What will take water spots off furniture?

When was the first stamp made, and whose picture was on it?

Some of these questions may sound silly to you but finding the answers to them and many more are just part of the librarian's work.

It may surprise you to know that the question most frequently asked according to the librarian is "Have I read this book?"

Let the BUYER BEWARE!

In a central Mississippi county not long ago, the Brewers and Mississippi Beer Distributors Committee and local enforcement officers joined forces in a drastic clean-up of law violations in a handful of places licensed to sell beer.

Now, in an advertisement, a proprietor, cognizant of the effect of this legal industry's aid in law enforcement, wants to get rid of what he calls a "beer joint."

This Committee would give a brief word of counsel to would-be buyers: The likely reason this proprietor wants to go out of business is that he realizes that he can no longer operate a so-called "joint."

"Joints" flagrantly break control laws and thus violate public decency and morals. Consequently, they have no place in an otherwise clean, legitimate industry. Our major objective is to regulate the industry in the public interest. Therefore, we say "You can't run a beer joint" and we'll help the authorities and Mississippi's overwhelming majority of law-abiding retailers to see that you don't.

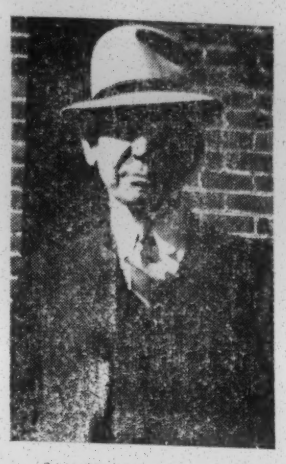
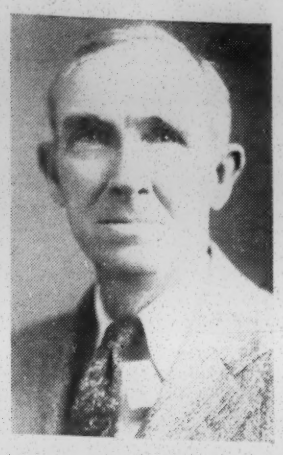
"Blitzkrieging" the Saloonkeepers



JAILOR MATT COOLEY



SHERIFF TAYLOR HAYWARD

CHIEF DEPUTY CARPENTER

The sheriff's force pictured above has been blitzkrieging the saloonkeepers outside the city limits in Grenada County to the extent that keeping a saloon is no longer considered a legitimate business here. One prominent bootlegger, formerly a prominent saloonkeeper, was heard to say that the French, the Poles the Dutch and the Belgians knew nothing about the horrors of war, that those defeated people should try opening up a licker joint in Grenada County, if they really wanted to know what plupers feet hell was.

The State of Mississippi

To: Mrs. Marcie Bell, 812 Quapaw Avenue, Hot Springs, Arkansas; Mrs. Louise Giles, 1201 Eighteenth Avenue South, Nashville, Tenn.

You are summoned to appear before the Chancery Court of the County of Grenada in said State on the second Monday of August, A. D. 1940, to defend the suit number 5361 in said court of Tom Mayfield, et al, wherein you are a defendant.

This the 27th day of June, A.D., 1940.

J. P. PRESSGROVE, Clerk.

Dear George Criss: if, while at Fort McPhearson, you visit around in West End, ask some of the citizens there if they know J. B. Suttles. If you find or see J. B., tell him howdy for me. Ask him how Natalie is? That's his wife. Tell him to tell her that her old admirer who used to dance with her at Kappa Sigma and other dances, has lost his sylph like figure and weighs 185 pounds. Suppose you look in the telephone directory and see if he is listed. If so, call him and deliver my message.

Several here, who want to vote for Bilbo, failed to pay their poll taxes.

Arkansas Long-staple Ford gave me a dirty deal.

While in that state, the Underwoods visited many interesting places in the state, including the Cave Section, the Lincoln Monument, Bardstown, and the beautiful blue grass section around Lexington.

Ed patted War Admiral and several other fine race horses on their several rumps. He spoke of seeing the beautiful 6,000 acre estate, all enclosed in whitewashed fence, of a Pittsburgh millionaire. Beautiful cattle and horses, splendid farms and palatial homes seem to characterize this favored section.

Richard C. Fox

(Mrs. M. S. Walker)

(Too late for last week's paper)

Richard Compton Fox, beloved and well known all over the state, died at his home in Duck Hill Monday afternoon after a long illness. He was born in Tallahatchie County 85 years ago. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Summerfield Fox, moving to Carroll County when he was quite a young boy. Then coming to Duck Hill in his early young manhood days—growing and building with the town. He was known far and near for the good that he did—ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in need and distress. Many persons would have gone hungry and cold had it not been for his help and many burdens were made lighter by his sympathetic, kindly assistance.

For many years he was the leading merchant of Duck Hill, and his acquaintances in the commercial world covered a large territory. As he was known he was liked and appreciated.

Funeral services were held at his home and sorrowing friends followed his remains to his last resting place.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Cora Gattis Fox and several grand children besides a host of friends.

HITLER AND THE LITTLE BOY—BOTH OF THEM HAVE A BOOK

When you were a child, and provided you were normal, you probably turned the pages of the wish book, the Sears Roebuck & Co. catalog, and there saw the toys you wished, even dreamed for. You would say, "I want this one, that one; this one and that one." To the next section you would turn and dream of possessing this one and that one; this one. Until you had wished for more than a life's earnings could buy. Finally, alas and alack, you awoke to the realization that money, money alone could purchase these much desired things. This left an alternative, but it was ridiculous, absurd and impossible for you, a young boy, to take by force your desires from a big store. Accordingly, you went on dreaming of them, of if you were super-normal, you gave the idea of toys entirely up, thought no more about it.

Hitler, the little-big-boy, turns through his wish book, the world atlas. Dreams fantastic dreams of world domination; wishes for every country that dots the globe, little or big, rich or poor. The Fuehrer, like the young boy, has his pet desire, something he would rather have than anything else, this being the rich manufacturing, commercial, and agricultural country that contains the 48 states. But he, like the little boy, is baffled, it would be suicide for him to attempt to conquer this country. Therefore he cast the idea aside, thought no more of it.

•••

Moral: It is imperative, that we adequately prepare ourselves so as to keep Hitler in his place. If we build up a mighty armament, the Fuehrer will not dare molest the United States. He like the little boy, will know what side of the bread his butter is on.

•••

We favor the Compulsory Army Training Bill. It is the duty of this generation to preserve for posterity those cherished rights that our forebearers gave to us. However, there should be a change in the bill and an assurance made by the government. At the present the enrollee would be paid $5.00 per month—not enough—the CCC boys are given $30 to $50 per month—too much for what they do. The boys who are subjected to forced enlistment should on return from camp, receive their old jobs back.

Look at the men who lost their jobs during the World War, and never regained them. Some of them are tragic sights to behold—sights that should have no repetition.

"Buck Hitler rides again." After killing and riding over the flower of the French army, Hitler again rides. This time in triumph over streets in Berlin strewn with vegetable organisms.

•••

For the last year or so only one mortal and God knows who the next president would be. Now two mortals know, making the sum total of three, the Good Lord, Roosevelt and Farley.

•••

Let it be understood, resolved and digested that the longest piece that appeared in this column last week was not inspired by any certain person, at any certain time, or at any certain place. To those who were vulnerable, if any, we prescribe a good dose of vulnerary to be taken as follows: One table spoon full after reading something you disapprove of until cured.

•••

Furthermore, if anyone professes that the piece was solely directed at her, she is absolutely mistaken. And evidently conceited to think that we would waste that much space on one person; and, without a doubt, egotistical as all get out—an inflated ego is a serious matter, so let off a little steam.

DR. G. T. GILLESPIE PREACHED DEDICATORY SERMON SUNDAY

(Mrs. M. S. Walker)

Duck Hill, Miss., July 8—Dr. G. T. Gillespie, president of Belhaven College and native son of Duck Hill, preached the dedicatory sermon Sunday morning from the sixteenth chapter of St. Matthew, using a part of the eighteenth verse "Upon this rock I will build my church" in the dedication of the Gillespie Memorial Presbytian Church, appropriately named in memory of the late Mrs. G. Y. Gillespie.

The officers taking part in the beautiful and impressive ceremony beside the pastor, Rev. Mr. Lowe, were Dr. G. Y. Gillespie, Mr. E. A. Moore, Mr. W. E. Sledge and Mr. Ralph Moore. The achievement of a Presbyterian church in Duck Hill is the culmination of a dream of many years that this congregation has looked forward to and their many friends rejoice with them over their having a house to worship in that they can call their own.

LOOK AT THE GLOVES

Grenada, Miss., July 5th, 1940

Mr. Whyte Whitaker,
Grenada, Miss.
Dear Whyte:

The enclosed picture being such a rare and unusual occasion and knowing you to be a good friend of this man, I am forwarding it to you as proof, by virtue of having personally snapped it, that Ira Rounsaville is a hard working man, if you doubted it before.

Having met "Cousin Ira" on the street in this suit of "Corn Field Tweeds"" with his hands daintly gloved in horse hide mittens shocked me to the point of inquiring if he was feeling entirely well.

He stated that "By the sweat of thy brow he could bring the bacon home" and that he envied no man's hard days work. I asked him to wait until this picture could be snapped as I not only wanted a memory in my heart of him in this attire but a picture to hang on the wall for his friends to see that he was guilty of work. He gladly waited.

Look at this picture closely and you will find that "Cousin Ira" has a determined expression on his face or maybe that is just a triumphant smile behind his brush pile mustache, and I have often wondered what that expression meant, but I am convinced now that he is a hard working citizen of beat four.

You knowing "Cousin Ira" as I, of his wonderful power of making and keeping friends, seriously it behooves me to say that should we have more Ira Rounsaville's in our midst we would not be as apt to stagger from the straight and narrow path. Good ole "Cousin Ira".

With kindest regards I am,
Respectfully yours,
C. W. BRISCOE

Letters to the Editor

Greenwood, Miss., July 9, 1940

Hon. W. W. Whitaker,
Grenada, Miss.
Friend Whyte:-

It is cloudy overhead, as it has been for the past two or three weeks, but the sun shines in the hearts of the Delta folks. Our "Swamp" streams are assuming proportions near the flood stage, but with the exception of lots of grass, the crops, corn, cotton, hay and other food crops are fine in this section of "The Swamp", and we are a happy and contented lot.

Tomorrow, Wednesday, there is to be a "Bilbo meeting" at Clarksdale, for the purpose of effecting an organization in behalf of Senator Bilbo's campaign for re-election, which is of course, as you know an assured fact. Bilbo has never been very strong in the "The Swamp", but now the Lions and the Lambs have bedded together, and it is generally conceded by knowing politicians that the Senator will get at least three to one vote over your "hu-em White". "Me and Mike" can't whip 'em, so be a good sport and come on and ""jine 'em".

The very thought of your crawling under the cover with Fred is humiliating to your boyhood chums, who with all your faults still love you.

O, well, when I sat down here to write you a short note, saying you would find enclosed two dollars for the renewal of subscription to Mississippi's best weekly, I didn't intend to try to proselyte you. So get your heart and conscience right with God, and do what you please.

My love to "Miss Mary" and the rest of your family.

Sincerely your friend,
FRANK H. SMITH

FORTUITOUS TURN IN WHEEL OF FORTUNE FOR FRED SIMMONS

On July 4th, Fred Simmons, of Grenada, was the beneficiary of a fortunate turn in the wheel of fortune, when the gods, whom we spoke of week before last, decided that it was Fred who would be the beneficiary of the unadvertised offer of Grenada Auto Company to exchange on that, the Nation's Natal Day, a handsome new Plymouth Coach, for the used car that Fred had purchased from the auto company.

Fate, or the Wheel of Fortune, or whatever instrumentality the gods used in selecting Fred from a large list of other purchasers of used cars, having decreed that Fred was the fortunate one, then retired to the mystic silences of the past, or to whatever place Fate, or the Wheel of Fortune or other instrumentality stay when it or they are not working; and Fred, the proud possessor of this peerless Plymouth, pridefully piloted this princely property properly over the purlious of this province.

Had the Fates deferred until the sixth of July the bestowal of this splendid swapping opportunity, the acquisition of this fine semi-gift would have fallen upon Fred's natal day; and the coincidence of this fortune and the date of Fred's arrival on this mundane sphere of Sam's second son would have been appropriate indeed, and, no doubt, this bestowal would have been deferred to that date had Joe Neely of Grenada Auto been able to penetrate the unfathomobile depths of the Fate's inscrutable secret.

If anyone understands this, present their interpretation, properly notarized, and Joe may give them another car, maybe.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holland, of Newbern, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Wagner, of Dunleaf, Miss. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cole at Glenwild Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Blanche Mattingly, of Ole Miss will spend the week-end here with relatives.

Aint they sweet.

LEADING CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE

HON. KENNETH G. RAYBURN

KENNETH G. RAYBURN MAKES BRIEF STOP HERE

In his whirlwind campaign for election, Kenneth G. Rayburn, of Pontotoc, leading candidate for Congress from the Fourth Congressional District, paused briefly in Grenada Thursday morning, and reports that everywhere he goes he is receiving encouragement far beyond his most optimistic expectations. Right now he is doing like Hitler is doing, getting everything set and everything in shape before his final victorious blitzkrieg against what somebody calls Arkansas Long-staple Ford.

He is distributing one of the most comic, yet the most apt cartoons ever seen in Grenada. It depicits an old cow grazing in the 4th Congressional District, and being milked in Arkansas by Arkansas Long-staple Ford.

Me and Rayburn.

Dear George Criss: also call up Coach William A. Alexander at Georgia Tech and tell him to go to hell, but tell him that in such a nice gentlemanly manner that he will know I was joking.
